The Carolina's trusted source for material handling solutions

Advanced Equipment Company has a unique and very successful history of continuous growth for over 63 years in our industry. Through the years we have evolved into a respected top resource for conveyor, storage, and other material handling solutions and integration.

Our success starts with a strong partnership with you, our customer, on every project no matter the size. And our solid relationships with our premiere suppliers brings a strong advantage to your project. The combination of the two and the quick development of the correct solution gives you an excellent product.

We thrive on repeat business and have many long term and satisfied customers. Once in the AEC family, you'll feel the difference.
